Air Crash Fatal to Eddie Stinson

DEAN OF AMERICA'S AVIATORS' PLANE STRIKES FLAGPOLE

THREE PASSENGERS INJURED AS PLANE PLUNGES TO EARTH IN CHICAGO PARK

Chicago, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Edward A. (Eddie) Stinson, dean of America's aviators, died today of injuries suffered in a crash that brought an end to his unequalled record of nearly two years actual flying time in the air.

Three Passengers Injured
The pioneer pilot and airplane designer died at 1 a. m. after he had cracked up his plane in a forced landing in Jackson park last night. His three passengers were injured, one seriously.

A high steel flagpole which Stinson failed to see in the dusk ripped a wing on the plane and caused it to plunge to earth just as the 38-year-old aviator was about to land on a golf course.

Others hurt in the crash were: Clark Fields, 30, Kalamazoo, Mich., chief salesman of the Stinson Aircraft corporation; Fred M. Gillis, 36, Chicago, and John Tompkins, 36, Chicago, a mechanic.

Stinson, who was officially credited with 16,000 flying hours, more than any other human, had never suffered a serious plane accident since he entered aviation as a young pupil of the famed Orville and Wilbur Wright at Dayton, O.

He was flying a new Stinson junior de luxe plane of his own design when the fatal crash occurred. He took off from the field at his factory at Wayne, Mich., yesterday morning, stopping at South Bend, Ind., and continuing here where he demonstrated his new ship at the municipal flying field.

Just before dark he again took off supposedly for a return trip to Wayne. As the plane flew over Lake Michigan, it was believed motor trouble or a scanty gasoline supply caused Stinson to head his ship back toward the city. The exact reason was not known as Stinson failed to regain consciousness before his death.

Taught Army Maneuvers
Stinson chose the golf course in Jackson park along the lakeshore as a likely landing field. Witnesses reported the plane was gliding smoothly toward the ground when the right wing struck a tall flagpole. The plane shuddered and dropped to the earth nose first.

He is credited with teaching the U. S. fliers maneuvers now classed as standard in the army training schools.

Sisters Also Pilots
Just after the war he entered manufacture of commercial airplanes with a factory at Dayton, O., later transferring his activities to Detroit with the Stinson-Detroit concern. His present company is a subsidiary of the Cord corporation.

In 1921 he set a world's endurance flight record at Mineola, Long Island, remaining aloft 26 hours. At one time he held the world altitude record. His sisters, Marjorie and Katherine, entered aviation also and were among the earliest women pilots.

SCORES OF JOBLESS GIVEN TEMPORARY WORK BY SNOWFALL

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR REPORT SHOWS SMALL SEASONAL GAINS IN STATE

Heavy snows over most of the state of Minnesota furnished employment in its removal and gave temporary relief to hundreds of unemployed persons, the United States department of labor monthly report for the state said today.

Cold weather during December had resulted in a reduction of forces employed by the state highway department, the report said. Small seasonal employment gains were noted in printing and publishing establishments and meat-packing houses.

"Several thousand persons were given employment during the holiday season in postoffices, mail-order houses, department stores and similar lines," the report said.

In Duluth seasonal recessions in employment were noted in major industries, especially in iron mining, railroad repair shops and building. Some municipal work was underway. Steel mills employed about a third of their normal quota.

Surpluses in building trades men and railroad workers were reported at St. Cloud with little promise of improvement before spring. There was little demand for farm help.

"General employment conditions in the Twin Cities during December continued under normal," the report said. "Municipal work and holiday pickup helped working conditions."

Shipstead Urges Completion River Project In Five Years

Washington, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—City officials, shipping men and representatives of improvement associations appeared before a senate subcommittee today to urge construction and maintenance of a nine foot channel in the Mississippi river between the Twin Cities and the mouth of the Missouri river.

They testified yesterday before a house committee that the $124,000,000 project, recommended in an army survey report, is of prime importance to Minnesota and other states. It would involve 24 new locks and dams.

The improvements would cover a 650-mile stretch of river. Of the total, $32,604,100 of work is regarded as essential, $28,512,100 as extremely necessary and the remainder as desirable before a dependable nine foot channel can be reconstructed to connect with that existing below the mouth of the Missouri. Cost of maintenance would be $1,750,000 annually.

Sen. Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota, will submit an amendment to the rivers and harbors act when it comes from the house. The amendment would provide for completion of the project within five years, and would allow the chief of engineers wider discretion in the placing of improvements to "more effectively meet the standards and requirements of modern navigation."

STATE CONCLUDES ITS CASE AGAINST MRS. WINNIE JUDD

DEFENDANT SAID BY STATE TO HAVE RESENTED ATTENTIONS GIRLS PAID TO HALLORAN

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Winnie Ruth Judd shot two former girlfriends to death because she resented the attention they paid to a wealthy Arizona sportsman, the state claimed today as it closed its case in her trial on a charge of murder.

The man allegedly was J. J. (Happy Jack) Halloran, wealthy lumber dealer, who frequently attended quiet parties with the defendant and the two women she assertedly killed, Mrs. Agnes Lerol and Miss Hedvig Samuelson.

The case the state concluded today concerned only Mrs. Lerol's death but Mrs. Judd may later be tried on a charge of killing Miss Samuelson, whose body was dismembered and with that of Mrs. Lerol shipped to Los Angeles in luggage.

REPORT AMERICAN LIVES AND PROPERTY SAFE IN EL SALVADOR

DEATH TOLL IN "COMMUNIST" UPRISING IN REPUBLIC PLACED AT 2,000

San Salvador, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Casualties in the "communist" uprising over the week-end in El Salvador totaled about 2,000 rebels in various parts of the country, advisers reaching the capital said today.

The government was in control of the entire country today and conditions were returning to normal, with banks and business houses reopened.

The principal leaders of the revolt were captured and were awaiting trial in regular courts. Some fled to Guatemala and others were in hiding with national police hunting them out.

Washington, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—The American legation in San Salvador reported to the state department today that the revolution there had not taken an anti-foreign turn and that American lives and property were safe.

Evacuation of women and children is not considered necessary now, the legation said. It suggested, however, that the destroyers Wickes and Phillips should stand by at La Libertad rather than Acapulco. No explanation was given.

DISTRICT LEGION RALLY HEARS PLEA TO AID UNEMPLOYED

A war is being waged in America today; a war for individual economic independence, Stafford King, state auditor and former state Legion commander, told Legionnaires of the Sixth district rallying at Little Falls last evening. The rally was attended by a large representation from Brainerd.

The Legion members were urged by King to aid in solving the unemployment problem.

"The Legion asks the employer to meet the problem of unemployment as the soldier met the World War—in a spirit of unselfish loyalty," King stated.

Past commanders of Legion posts in various communities in this section and presidents of Legion Auxiliary units were guests of honor at a dinner.

On the program besides the state auditor were E. B. Miller of Park Rapids, district commander; Mrs. A. C. Mraz, Brainerd, district auxiliary president, and Mrs. A. E. Amundson of Little Falls, past district president.

CHINESE PREPARE SHANGHAI DEFENSE AFTER JAP ORDER

SET UP BARBED WIRE EN- TANGLEMENTS, BARRICADES AND ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS

Shanghai, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Chinese acting under martial law strengthened barbed wire entanglements and sand bag barricades, and one division of troops set up anti-aircraft guns here today.

London, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Japan will take direct action in Shanghai, designed to smash the Chinese boycott, within the next 72 hours, private advices reaching here late today said.

Definite details regarding the nature of the reported action were not revealed.

as Japanese naval forces awaited orders to begin at once the "drastic action" threatened in an ultimatum.

Japanese Consul-General Mural said the increased Chinese military activity prompted him to ask the Japanese foreign office for authorization to send a final ultimatum to the Chinese under which Japan might take "immediate action."

He accused the Chinese of insincerity. He said they were stalling for time to complete military preparations to resist Japanese forces here, which include 10 warships off the waterfront and 1,400 marines ashore.

The Chinese political situation remained uncertain. Minister of Finance Huang Han-Liang resigned in support of Foreign Minister Eugene Chen and Premier Sun Fo, who accused Nanking leaders of having "medieval minds" unable to cope with modern problems.

American Consul-General Edwin S. Cunningham requested instructions from the state department in the event of interference with communications, particularly by radio station at Chenju, near Shanghai, guarded by Chinese troops.

Demands Housecleaning of Republican Party

Minneapolis, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—A housecleaning of the whole political structure to the republican party is needed, Totten Peavey Heffelfinger, Minneapolis, today said in a speech of acceptance of the presidency of the younger republicans.

"A complete reorganization with the aid of fearless, honest citizens who are fed up with present corruption in politics is needed," Heffelfinger said. "I have no interest in the republican party as it is today, nor do I care to help carry its standard as long as its ideals and principles are blotted out by selfishness and personal desires."

The younger republicans must not align themselves with the "old guard," Heffelfinger warned.

MOUNTED POLICE SCOUR 'GRAVEYARD OF NORTH' INTENT UPON 'GETTING THEIR MAN'

Aklavik, Northwest Territory, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Four weary Royal Canadian Mounted Police fought through snow in 38 degrees below zero cold today toward Yukon territory, "graveyard of the Far North," on the trail of Albert Johnson, "bushy" trapper wanted for attempted murder, who fought off 15 Royal Canadian Mounted Police in three battles and finally escaped.

"It's suicide for a man to go into the North alone this time of year," experienced trappers said as news came here that Johnson had fled. "Johnson is done for."

"Get your man anyway" was the order to the Mounted Police.

Other members of the patrol of police brought word of the crazed trapper escape when they mushed into Aklavik today. They started outfit-

OIL IMPORTS TARIFF, TAX ON BUSES URGED IN HOUSE HEARING

PROPOSED TAXATION OF MOTOR BUSES BITTERLY OPPOSED BY MINNEAPOLIS MAN

Washington, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—A tariff on oil imports and federal taxation of motor buses were advocated before the House ways and means committee today as sources of additional government income.

The proposed motor bus tax was opposed vigorously by Ivan Owen of Minneapolis, representing the National Association of Motor Bus Operators.

The oil tariff was urged by representatives of the Democratic independence oil industry headed by Writ Franklin of Oklahoma City.

"This is a proposal to tax the trucks and buses off the road," Bowen said of the suggestion of a tax of three cents per mile on interstate motor buses and trucks. The suggestion had been advanced by Rep. Boland, Republican, Pennsylvania.

Bowen said the bus lines are taxed heavily enough now by states and that state legislatures were increasing the fees. Bowen, who is connected with the Gray Line Bus Corporation, said one large bus line already had been driven from business.

George H. Hinnebaugh, assistant paymaster of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, presented figures to support his assertion that bus competition was cutting down employment and revenues of the railroads. He estimated a 44 per cent loss in freight revenues in the last 10 years.

PRISONERS KILL TRUSTY IN DARING BREAK FROM PRISON

SECOND SPECTACULAR BREAK IN WEEK FROM GEORGIA PRISON FREES 3 CONVICTS

Milledgeville, Ga., Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—For the second time in a week a spectacular escape occurred at the Georgia state penitentiary today. Three fugitives, fleeing madly in a stolen automobile, ran down and instantly killed an aged trusty who sought to halt them.

The trio were Roy Gardner, notorious Pacific coast outlaw serving a short term here; Aubrey Smith, equally notorious Georgia gangster, and Abe Powers, "gentleman" convict of bunco fame.

The trusty ground to death under the wheels of the car in which the three convicts made their escape was "Uncle" John S. Williams, serving a life sentence on conviction of slaying several negroes at his farm years ago. Last week Leland Harvey and Jack Martin tried their way to freedom from the death cell here. They are still at large.

Smith, Powers and Gardner, confined to the tuberculosis camp and incarcerated in a steel cage, mysteriously sawed their way out, confiscated the powerful sedan of Dr. Richard Binion, prison physician, and fled.

Forecaster of Crash Predicts Better Times

Wellesley Hills, Mass., Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Roger W. Babson, who predicted the stock market crash of 1929, today said he was equally positive that the turning point had been reached and that better times were ahead.

Blames Truck Competition for Rail Receivership

Minneapolis, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Competition by trucks and automobiles was responsible for the failure of the Minnesota Western railroad to pay interest on its bonds and its resultant receivership, according to Harry E. Pence who controls the majority of the stock.

The railroad went into receivership last night. It extends 115 miles west of Minneapolis to Chippewa county.

Pence holds 60 per cent of the outstanding bonds.

See Hope for Drug Addicts in Process

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Hope for the thousands of drug addicts of the nation was seen today when it was reported that two University of Michigan specialists, Drs. Nathan B. Eddy and Charles W. Edmunds, are making progress on a harmless substitute for habit forming drugs.

OBJECTIONS LOOM TO NAMING MITCHELL ON SUPREME COURT

HOOVER FINDS OPPOSITION TO CONFIRMATION IN SOUND- ING OUT SENATE

Washington, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—President Hoover has quietly sounded out the senate on Attorney General Mitchell as successor to Oliver Wendell Holmes on the supreme court.

Senate leaders have informed Mr. Hoover they do not think Mitchell can be confirmed.

Two objections were raised. Western senators indicated they would protest against confirmation on the ground of Mitchell's policy in anti-trust cases during his service in the cabinet. Some democrats and regular republicans expressed the opinion that the fact Mitchell comes from the same St. Paul, Minn., law firm as Associate Justice Pierce Butler would make him undesirable.

Whether Mr. Hoover will choose to name Mitchell in the face of these two objections remains to be seen. At the White House it is believed Mitchell will be dropped from further consideration.

The elimination of Mitchell has turned Mr. Hoover back to deliberating the qualifications of three old names and one new one—the new one being Paul McCormick, federal judge of the southern California district.

The old ones are Judge B. N. Cardozo of New York, Circuit Judge Orie Phillips of New Mexico and Warren Olney, attorney of San Francisco.

The nominee finally agreed upon may be sent to the senate within the next few days along with the last remaining democratic members of the reconstruction finance corporation.

The president is reluctant to appoint Cardozo because it would give New York three places on the court. Congressional sources believe he will name a far westerner and they are betting on Phillips. Any one of the four probably would be confirmed.

PAPAL DELEGATE TO HONOR ARCHBISHOP AT CEREMONY WED.

APOSTOLICA DELEGATE TO CON- SECRATE NEW HEAD OF ST. PAUL DIOCESE

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—His Excellency, the Most Rev. Pietro Fumasoni-Biondi, Apostolic delegate to the United States and highest ranking Roman Catholic dignitary in the country, arrived last night to consecrate the Most Rev. John Gregory Murray, former bishop of Portland, Me., as archbishop of St. Paul.

The ceremonies will be held in the Cathedral here tomorrow morning. Bishop Murray arrived in Chicago today and was met by a large delegation of Minnesotans who will escort him to the Twin Cities.

Monsignor James H. Ryan, rector of the Catholic University at Washington, accompanied the apostolic delegate. He was met on his arrival here by high dignitaries of the St. Paul diocese including the very Rev. Msgr. James C. Byrne, interim administrator of the St. Paul diocese, Rev. R. E. Nolan, chancellor, and Rev. F. J. Schenk, vice chancellor.

AWAIT FORMAL VOTE ON AMENDED PLAN PROPOSED BY RAILS

Half of Labor Unions Have Already Acted on Proposal But Trend Will Not Be Announced Until All Have Balloted

Mrs. Gann Asserts Faith in Hoover

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—The common sense of the American people, who would not "seriously think of discharging a captain in the midst of the hurricane," will send President Hoover back to the White House for another term, Mrs. Dolly Gann asserted today.

The sister of Vice-President Charles Curtis paid a brilliant tribute to Mr. Hoover saying that all other issues must be overshadowed by the need of returning him again to the nation's "highest office."

SMITH, ROOSEVELT ARRANGE 'FRIENDLY' MEETING FOR FEB. 12

N. Y. LEGISLATURE PINS GOVERNOR TO 'YES' OR 'NO' ANSWER ON APPROPRIATION

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's presidential nomination campaign may thrive or die after two actions reported today—announcement of a "friendly conference" with Alfred E. Smith, and a legislative appropriation for continuation of the New York city graft hunt.

Roosevelt said he will meet former Gov. Smith, regarded as Roosevelt's formidable rival, at Albany, Feb. 12, or soon thereafter.

Assembly republicans continued the Hofstadter committee investigating Tammany controlled New York city, with an appropriation by statute which will require a "yes" or "no" from the governor.

The meeting between Roosevelt and Smith was regarded as a friendly gesture to show the democratic party and the nation that the personal friendship of the two since they were in the state legislature together 20 years ago, has not been impaired.

Meanwhile the republican assembly action was regarded as charged with dynamite. Should Tammany go on the war path and demand disapproval of another appropriation on the ground the committee has failed to accomplish anything, Roosevelt might not get the support of his own state delegation in the national convention.

FARMER - LABORITES DISCOURAGE U. S. INDUSTRIES ABROAD

Detroit Lakes, Minn., Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Leaders of the farmer-labor party in the ninth congressional district today forwarded resolutions to the state central committee which it was hoped will be incorporated in the party's 1932 platform.

The resolutions were drafted at an informal conference. Similar meetings are being held throughout the district with the next scheduled for Feb. 11. The first conference was held at Thief River Falls on Jan. 10.

The first resolution adopted by the conference asked that a 50 per cent tax be levied on American investments in foreign lands. Delegates attacked the policy of foreign investments followed heretofore and also said that industries should be discouraged from building up plants in foreign lands after shutdowns in America.

The support and passage of the state income tax was advocated in another resolution. A third resolution would give women an equal place in party councils.

WHO NEEDS A WAITRESS, LAUNDRESS, OR—

—can offer employment for a widow who, bereft of her husband's support and faced with the necessity of providing a livelihood for herself and her two small children, must find work.

She is willing to do almost any kind of work to keep her family together. She is an experienced waitress. She has done laundry work. But she will accept any form of employment in order to obtain funds sufficient to maintain her little home.

The woman is Mrs. Archie Lytle, whose husband recently died away with himself because, she said, he could not find employment.

Anyone having any kind of employment to offer her is asked to get in touch with The Daily Dispatch at once. She needs work and needs it badly and would be grateful for most anything that will give her enough money to provide for herself and her two children.

HEARING SET FOR APPROVAL OF DAM MUD LAKE OUTLET

Application of the Minnesota Department of Conservation, division of Game and Fish, for approval of plans of a dam to be constructed in Leech river at the outlet of Mud lake, located approximately 12 miles west of Deer River, will be considered at a public hearing to be held at Deer River at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Feb. 3.

Colonel Wilder Willing, St. Paul, district engineer of the War Department, will be in charge of the meeting.

The Brainerd Chamber of Commerce is considering the sending of a representative.

Chamber officials will investigate what effect, if any, the construction of a dam at Leech river would have on waters in Crow Wing county, particularly in the northern section.

All interested parties are invited to be present or to be represented, particularly navigation, flood control, wild life and resort interests, and the officials of any county, city, town or local association whose interests may be affected by the construction of the proposed work. They will be given an opportunity to express their views upon the suitability of the location and the adequacy of the plans in reference to the above mentioned interests, and to suggest changes considered desirable in these interests.

Oral statements will be heard, but for accuracy of record all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing, in triplicate, as the records of the hearing will be forwarded for consideration by the War Department. Written statements may be handed to Willing at the hearing or mailed to him beforehand.

The plans submitted by the applicant show the proposed dam to be located at the outlet of Mud lake and to consist of logs and boulders with two rows of wooden sheet piling and earth dikes. The crest as shown is 100 feet long with an earth embankment extending from the crib buttresses to the higher ground adjoining the river banks. This dam, which is expected to create a head of approximately 3.5 feet at low water stage, contains no provision to take care of navigation by means of a lock or otherwise.

The plans are on file in the United States Engineer Office, Room 615, Commerce Building, St. Paul, Minn., where they may be inspected by interested parties.

Buyer Here Attends Clothing Convention

Henry Cunningham of the John M. Bye Clothing Co. left today for St. Paul where he will attend a two days' clothing convention.

As buyer for the company he will select new spring merchandise as shown at the convention of Minnesota-North Dakota Retail Clothiers and Furnishers' Association and the Men's Apparel Club of Minnesota.

Sessions opened today and will continue Wednesday and Thursday at the Saint Paul hotel.

12 MILLION DOLLARS SPENT TO DEVELOP POWER IN DISTRICT

A. V. Taylor, manager of the Minnesota Power and Light Co., Little Falls, talked before the Rotary club here at noon today, discussing the operations of his company in this district.

"There is a mistaken idea that the utilities have not suffered during this depression. Commercial shutdowns have forced decreased revenues to power interests whereas the cost of operation has remained the same," Taylor said.

Since the formation of the Minnesota Power and Light company, 12 million dollars have been expended in central and northern Minnesota by the company, the speaker explained. Regarding additional developments planned by the company, Taylor took the stand that the company will expend such sums as will be required to maintain their service and expansion program efficiently.

"Owing to the varying flow of the Mississippi river, it has been necessary to build a 27,000 horsepower steam plant at Duluth. At Little Falls the river flow fluctuates from 22,000 cubic feet a second to 500 cubic feet a second. The modern steam plant is more economical to operate than the hydro-electric plants now in use," Taylor said.

LACK OF A COURT REPORTER IN BRAINERD IMPEDES PROGRESS OF MUNICIPAL COURT

There is one profession in Brainerd, score of people interested in the case, but no court reporter.

Mrs. Cora Dougherty was the only person known to the court and attaches who could capably take the testimony of a trial. Telephone calls revealed she is in Cuba on a visit. An attempt was made to enlist a few others but without success.

The trial may not be conducted until a district court reporter can be secured.

7th Prize	5.00	0.25
8th to 30th Prize	1.00	0.10

Class "A"—If you mail in $4.00 subscription
Class "B"—If you mail in no subscription

Try This Puzzle! Many Will Win!

BOY OR GIRL, MAN OR WOMAN, you may have lots of spare time fun with this interesting and educational "Flying Puzzle" and besides Win $500.00 in Cash. There will be many winners—30 PRIZES, OVER $1,000.00 IN CASH. Get out your pencil or pen at once and start your "prize flight" to fun, fame and fortune.

Minneapolis is the starting point. From there on the Map mark a straight line to any other city or town with at least one "S" in it—from that city to another with an "S" in it, etc. You may "fly" (mark your flight) back and forth, up or down, over land or sea, over anything and anywhere except across your path of "flight" at any point.

As soon as you have "flown" (marked your flight) to as many cities and towns with an "S" in them as you possibly can, then stop, sign your name and mail your "Prize Flight" Map AT ONCE to The Minneapolis Star. PROMPTNESS IS VERY IMPORTANT.

Mail Your "Prize Flight" Map to The Minneapolis Star, Room 303, Minneapolis, Minn.

If your "Prize Flight" Map shows, when the judges meet, that you have "flown" (marked your flight) to the greatest number of cities and towns under the simple rules, you win 1st Prize; 2nd prize wins 2nd Prize, etc., until all 30 FREE GRAND CASH PRIZES ARE AWARDED. You Never Know What You Can Do Until You Try—$500.00 IN CASH IS SURELY WORTH GOING AFTER THESE DAYS.

Must Live Outside Twin Cities!

REMEMBER—there are no other puzzles to solve—neatness does not count—and that this is not a subscription contest in which the person sending in the most subscriptions wins the big prize. ONLY PERSONS LIVING OUTSIDE OF THE TWIN CITIES MAY ENTER AND WIN THE PRIZE PRIZES.

It is the purpose of this interesting and educational "Flying Puzzle" to further advertise The Minneapolis Star, create additional good will and increase its present rapidly growing list of readers. If you mail in a subscription during this campaign you may win a larger prize. With The Minneapolis Star back of this "Flying Puzzle" you are assured absolute fairness. GET HURRY NOW AND BE A WINNER IN A FEW WEEKS. YOU CANNOT WIN UNLESS YOU TRY. ACT!

—Read These Simple Rules—

1. This "Flying Puzzle" is open to anyone living outside of the Twin Cities, except employees of The Minneapolis Star.
2. Starting at Minneapolis on above map or official copy thereof, mark your continuous "flight" with straight lines between the black dots or stars indicating the location of cities and towns having one or more "S" in them.
3. You may mark your "flight" over other cities not having an "S" in them, over lakes, land or sea, over anything and anywhere but do not cross your path at any point. Do not include any city in your "flight" more than once. Cities with an "S" in them of the same spelling in different locations may be included in your "flight".
4. The person whose map shows that he or she has "flown" to the greatest number of cities and towns with an "S" in them and who has "flown" the greatest distance of "air miles" in so doing, wins 1st prize; second greatest, wins 2nd prize, etc., until all 30 prizes are awarded. In case of tie duplicate prizes will be awarded.
5. No one may send in more than one map. Copying or collusion between contestants will disqualify their entries. All maps must be mailed and postmarked before midnight, February 28, 1932. Contestants may "Qualify" under Class "A" up to midnight, March 4, 1932.
6. Large official copies (12 in x 9 in) of above map on special paper may be had at 10c each to cover cost and mailing. "Scale of Air Miles" shown on above map will be used as authority.
7. Three prominent Minneapolis editors will act as judges. Contestants upon entering this "Flying Puzzle" agree to accept their decision as final and conclusive. Announcement of the winners will be made in The Minneapolis Star as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

FARMERS NEED COUNTY AGENT—

If farmers of Minnesota understood thoroughly the aims and results of county extension work, the county and home demonstration agents would not be embarrassed by attempts to have their offices abolished, according to R. A. Trovatten, Commissioner of the state Department of Agriculture, who spoke at University Farm recently. "Not only are these agents working efficiently along the lines most needed by farm people, but they are actually working harder and putting in longer hours than most farmers," Mr. Trovatten stated.

Pointing out that Denmark, which is much smaller than Minnesota, keeps 200 county agents, Mr. Trovatten said Minnesota should be able to keep at least one in a county. He said the talk of getting rid of county agents to relieve taxes was ridiculous, since the additional taxes for the support of such agents amounts to only about 11 cents a year for the average farmer in Crow Wing county.

The fact that Denmark is making use of county agents to increase farm efficiency makes it all the more necessary that Minnesota and other states in this country do likewise, Mr. Trovatten said, for the United States must compete with Denmark, Russia, Germany and other agricultural countries in selling its commodities. This means that the American farmer needs to produce cheaper, and county agents can help him greatly in so doing.

The co-operative marketing movement, Mr. Trovatten believes, is the solution of most farming problems, and he thinks Minnesota must develop more co-operatives to bring the consumer closer to the producer. Pointing to Minnesota's success in the co-operative marketing of butter, Mr. Trovatten said he could see no reason why co-operative marketing could not be as successfully developed in grain and other commodities. The county agents, he said, have been a very large factor in developing this movement, and can do much in the future.

NOT SO COMPLICATED—

Here is the principal railroad problem in a nutshell:

The railroads are an absolutely essential industry and are our greatest employer and purchaser of supplies. Yet we have allowed competing transport agencies, unregulated or half-regulated, and not paying proportionate taxes, to take away business that would otherwise have gone to the rails. In some instances, this competition has been made possible by government subsidies.

The issue is not so complicated: Are we to pass laws that will put all transport agencies under the same type of regulation, so that they may compete fairly, and equitably, or are we to allow the rail roads to be ruined?

WE ARE ALL INTERESTED—

In commenting on the silver problem, Rene Leon recently said, "So long as these two precious metals (gold and silver) are going to be used for money we must restore the equilibrium between them. . . Silver is the poor man's gold."

The drop in the value of silver has damaged the purchasing power of half the world's people. It has been a factor in bringing on, and maintaining, poor business conditions, and has made international trade chaotic. It is a practical problem that affects us all.

Present efforts to restore the value of silver and establish a fair relation between it and gold, should carry with them the hopes for success of all the countries of the world. No nation will profit more by improved conditions for metal mining than the United States, for it is one of our great employing and tax-paying industries.

"MIGHTY LAK A ROSE"

Frank L. Stanton, Jr., who was killed in an auto accident in Georgia the other day, possessed as unusual and appealing a variety of fame as a man can well get. He was the son of the man who wrote "Mighty Lak a Rose," and it was he about whom the poem was written.

Now "Mighty Lak a Rose" is not great poetry, or anything even approaching greatness. But it probably will be just as familiar to Americans a century hence, or two centuries hence, as it is today; for it is one of those simple, inexpressibly tender little poems that say what all of us would like to say and cannot, because we have not the gift of words, and society has a way of making such songs live, whether they have greatness or not.

And that is not to say that popular taste in such matters is poor. Taste has little to do with the matter. It may be that we ought to prefer "Lycidas" or "Adonais," but we can't help ourselves. The simple little songs, like this one of Stanton's, and "Little Boy Blue," and the others, fit us better.

For the emotions that we feel, when we stand and look down at a sleeping child, are not complex. They are simple, almost banal; every parent on earth, all the way back to Mary at Bethlehem, and farther, has felt them. And if they are to be expressed, they must be expressed in simple and hackneyed words.

So we turn to something like "Mighty Lak a Rose," which tells of flights of angels about a drowsy little head, and of the glimpse of heaven that can be seen in a child's blue eyes; and we feel, somehow, that these are not just words, but that they express something very true and profoundly beautiful.

The man who wrote "Mighty Lak a Rose" is dead, and now the boy about whom the poem was written—grown to manhood, and married—is dead, too; but the emotion that was born when the poet looked down at his sleeping son still lives, and thousands of people find it as fresh and as strong as it ever was. And if, as we sometimes suspect, we are, after all, only such stuff as dreams are made of—well, we can take comfort; for dreams, expressed in song, can live for a long, long time.

WARRIORS DEFEAT LITTLE FALLS AND FARGO BUT STAPLES EKES OUT WIN

BILL SMITH, ELMER FOSTER AND DAVE TEMPLETON STAR IN WEEK'S PLAY

Following the Little Falls victory, the Warriors were homeward bound ready to take on the Staples and Fargo teams in what promised to be a real cage battle. The result last Saturday showed it was just a case of "the best two out of three." The home fellows downed the Little Falls bunch, 27-22, but were turned back to defeat by the Staples quint, 22-21. They wound up the week, however, by defeating a strong Fargo aggregation in an exciting interstate tilt, score, 27-25.

The first engagement proved to be most interesting. The home cage men seemed to have a good deal of trouble finding the "hoop" until Foster entered to turn the tide to defeat to triumph. In the last quarter he played excellent basketball. He tantalized the down river boys by dropping "swishers" from his forward position until the Little Falls crowd grew weary of the procedure. The box score showed that he, himself, in the last quarter made within 3 points of half of his team's scoring.

Though Foster's record makes the game sound more or less one-sided, the down river boys also made a creditable showing. Riddle, Jackson and Beveridge were each good for two field goals and the team's playing indicates more opposition than was formerly expected of this aggregation. It is evident that they will prove to be a very serious threat in the forthcoming tourney.

Last Friday night the Staples quint found a good deal of trouble to add the Warriors' name to their long list of defeated rivals. Thus far this season, this "dark horse" Staples squad has not been defeated and has won ten consecutive victories. A long shot with seconds to play, gave them the needed points.

The interstate game on the following night proved to be a glorious culmination to an active cage week.

The man-to-man defense seemed to mystify the fellows during the first half and they were able to score only 7 points to the opponents' 15 in this period. This game being no exception, however, the coach's mystic power took effect during the half and again the fellows returned to stage a comeback that will be remembered as long as the "March of the Ten Thousand."

"Hoop" Smith, the Freshman flash, won real glory. He started scoring at the first of the second period and continued to sink 'em until the final whistle. His record shows no less than six field goals.

With few minutes to play the count was 23 to 23. Foster then replaced Templeton. A moment later, each team had another field goal to its credit. Then, on a long pass to Foster, who was under the cage, an under basket shot scored.

Semester and Six Weeks' Marks Appear Today

Grade card day is here again. Wednesday of this week not only the six weeks mark, but the term average, the final quiz mark, and the semester average are the end. As usual, the day is a busy one.

As an explanation to students and parents, the semester examination mark counts one-fourth of the entire grade. Multiplying the term average by three, adding in the test grade and dividing by four will give the final or semester average.

Every parent is urged to inspect the grade card at the end of the day and to affix his or her signature on the reverse side of the card. During the remainder of the semester the card will be issued on the Tuesday, following the close of the sixth week.

Students are required to have their card back in school on Thursday morning to be turned in at the first period class. Failure to do this will necessitate a trip home to get the card.

JUNIOR PLAY CAST CHOSEN

REHEARSALS FOR "THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH" TO BE HELD EACH DAY

Rehearsals for the Junior class play, "The Goose Hangs High," started Monday night and will be held every night at the high school.

The story is about Bernard and Eunice Ingals (Robert Ebert and Alice Rochford), who are sending their children, Hugh (Robert Jackson), Bradley (Howard Zander), and Lois (Virginia Wilson) to college at great expense to themselves but who at the same time, are putting up a brave front. Bernard Ingals is one of a group of Council Men among whom are Lee Day, a social climber, and Elliott Kimberly, an avaricious businessman (Richard Rice and Cyril DeRosier, respectively). Dagmar Carroll (Elizabeth Patterson) is the fiancée of Hugh Ingals. Rhoda (Mary Hoffman) is the trusted servant of the Ingals family. Noel Derby is the plant loving neighbor who often drops in on the family with cinderarias. Julia Murdoch (Alice Little) is the selfish cousin of the family who thinks of no one but herself and Ronald Murdoch (Sanford Shanks) is consequently denied many of the things which the Ingals children receive. Bernard Ingals is threatened by Kimberly and Day and finally the Ingals do lose their money and the ways devised to remedy this develops the plot to an exciting point. To find out how it ends—come and see "The Goose Hangs High."

Cicero Students Make Model Roman Forum

As a result of an intensive study by the Cicero students, of ancient Rome, a miniature Roman Forum was constructed through the mediums of plaster-paris, soap-carving, wood-carving, and glass. Glass formed the two lakes of the forum.

The project when completed, represented the ruins of the Forum as they stand today. The remains of the temples of the Vestal Virgins, of Saturn, the temple of Castor, the Arch of Titus, the Rostrum, and the Well of Aemilia, the Basilica Aemilia, and the Basilica Aemilia were erected. Originally these temples were constructed in honor of the favorite Roman gods, as a place for the people to worship and to offer up their animal sacrifices.

The Rostrum was the platform from which all the great speeches of the day were delivered.

The Basilica Aemilia was the community trading center of the Roman middle class.

This work was developed under the direction of Miss O'Brien and is now on display in Miss Walkup's room.

Declamation Try-Outs to Begin Wednesday

Try outs for the coming declamation under direction of Miss Trotter, Miss Clausen, and Miss Oertling, last year's able director, will begin Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

For the past week, the enterers, most of which are girls, have been working diligently on this coming event.

Humor is playing an important part in this year's declamation as there more calls for that type than for any other.

Forty-Four New Students Enter High School

The new semester is here and everybody has made a new resolution to buckle down and industriously apply themselves to their studies. New classes have been organized, shifts have been made and everything is in readiness for a most successful half year.

Forty-four new faces have made their appearance in the high school classes. These people are the eighth graders who have been promoted at the half year.

Several people have returned to school after being out for a period of time. Woodrow Wilson, Edmund Barber, Ferdinand Stroka and Edmond Holkenan are these individuals. Welcome back.

The forty-four people who transferred in the eighth grade into high school are:

Girls' Gym Classes Clash in Action Games

Miss Fleuk's third and sixth period gym classes met Tuesday night after school in an interesting basketball game.

It was a rip roaring exciting game with plenty of action. Flora Jane Elder received a bloody nose and Matella Favrou, a damaged knee cap.

Barriet Halvorsen, Gladys Shubert and Francis Teale were the champion basketball throwers in making the most baskets. Harriet and Francis belong to the sixth period team and Gladys to the third period.

Miss Fleuk was referee and she certainly had a job on her hands while Linda Zawadzki and Linda Zawadzki were score keepers.

The sixth period team won 18 to 10.

"COUSIN JULIA'S JADE EAR RING" HIGHLY PRAISED BY STUDENTS

From the second period and the third period defeated the fourth. Score is too great to publish—?

YE EDITOR

During the present basketball season many visiting fans have remarked upon the unusual and unnecessary amount of criticizing and booing the district referees receive from both young and old Brainerd basketball followers.

All officials hired by the Brainerd athletic board are both competent and capable of handling and officiating at all high school games and therefore should not be criticized by the fans.

Brainerd's athletic teams for years, held the reputation both off and on the basketball court and the gridiron—let's not lose the teams hard earned reputation but help them to strengthen it by cooperating with the basketball referees and officials.

FACULTY ADDRESS STUDENT FAILURES

At two o'clock yesterday, Mr. Cobb and Miss Trotter talked to all the freshmen who failed in one or more subjects. The outstanding facts brought out by the investigation was that failure was closely connected with lack of study. Twenty-six students met in the auditorium to discuss the question as to why they were unable to make their subjects. These were the results—seven admitted never studying after they left school; twelve studied less than half an hour a day; while a few stated that they studied an hour or more every day.

Out of this group six were girls and the rest boys. From this, one can argue that the greatest reason for failure in most cases is lack of study, and that matter can easily be remedied, for very few students in high school have much to do outside of school hours.

Mr. Cobb stated that since the town paid more than a hundred dollars a year for each student, it is the duty of every pupil in school to do his share in making it worthwhile for the taxpayers to keep the schools going. He

ENTIRE CAST TURNS IN EXTRA-ORDINARY PERFORMANCE

"Cousin Julia's Jade Ear Ring" was presented in the auditorium with the following cast:

Mr. Tucker.....Harold Strickler
Mrs. Tucker.....Virginia Rowland
Cousin Julia.....Marjorie Forsberg
Ruddy Glenn.....Lyle Anderson
Tommy Tucker.....Lester Preston
Beane Jones.....Ruben Padgett
Marjorie Tucker.....Frances Reese
Rosey.....Marie Erdman

Under the directorship of Miss Matthis and Mr. Rosel the play centers about the loss of Cousin Julia's jade ear ring given to her by a beau in her youth. Young Tommy, with a promise of five dollars, induces his friend Beane to help him look for it. They find an ear ring, but it happens to be a good luck charm of Captain Ruddy Glenn, a gift from Majorie, and the boys sacrifice their chance of earning five dollars. The local boys win the football game with the help of the charm and Tommy, who is exiled in his home, with Rosey, the maid, discovered the real jade ear ring. The reward was five dollars for each of the boys. Cousin Julia lost her nervous characteristics in Tommy's and Beane's explanation of modern football.

Acting ability was shown by all the characters, especially the juvenile acting, although the older principals were acted with ability hard to surpass.

Judge Kinder Speaks to Hi-Y on Camping

Last Wednesday at 6:15 p. m., following a delicious supper, Judge Kinder delivered a very interesting address on Auto Camping.

He gave very many helpful hints on how to pitch your tent, what hours to travel in and so forth. He gave a detailed description of his trip to Glacier National Park and the Canadian Rockies.

The supper consisted of meat loaf, creamed potatoes, peas and cake. Boys invited for the supper who are not members were Robert Jackson, Allan Paine and Eddie Jernberg.

He urged them all to study seriously every day and see that they made their regular four subjects next semester.

with the CRANKCASE DRY to prove the PENETRATION of Germ Processed Oil and Value of the "Hidden Quart"

"Hoocy!" jeered one of the bystanders in a Muskogee, Oklahoma, filling station when F. J. Morgan told how the "Hidden Quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Oil had protected many cars from harm when run with the crankcase empty.

To prove his point, Mr. Morgan had the Germ Processed Oil drained from his crankcase and, accompanied by the doubter, started for Checotah, 27 miles away.

A crowd met the car at Checotah, but Mr. Morgan drove on to Eufaula, 14 miles farther, 41.6 miles from Muskogee. Chevrolet mechanics tore down the motor and pronounced it undamaged. The doubters became believers!

The oil that protects a motor under such conditions will give you better, safer lubrication in every-day driving! Conoco Germ Processed Oil is the only oil that actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces. That's why a "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and never drains away. It cuts down costly starting wear, saves gas, gives your motor longer life, with fewer repair bills.

Change to Conoco Germ Processed Oil for safer, surer lubrication.

We neither encourage "dry crankcase" experiments nor guarantee success under all conditions. But unsolicited letters from motorists, now in our files, tell of this and hundreds of other runs with empty crankcases but without damage.

THE HIDDEN QUART ... THAT NEVER DRAINS AWAY

DEMPSEY TO MEET WINNER OF WALKER-SHARKEY BOUT

FIGHT WILL BE HELD IN CHICAGO, SACHS DECLARES

Chicago, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Jack Dempsey will meet the winner of the Max Schmeling-Jack Sharkey fight in New York or Chicago in September, according to plans revealed today by Leonard Sachs, Dempsey's manager.

"Dempsey may engage in a tune-up bout with the winner of the Schmeling-Sharkey match," said Sachs. "Of course, some unforeseen development might upset present plans but I believe Dempsey and the winner of the Schmeling-Sharkey bout will fight for the title in September."

"Dempsey purposely refrained from meeting either Sharkey or Schmeling, believing such a stand on his part would bring these two claimants to the title together. One or the other will be eliminated by their June bout, and then the winner against Dempsey will settle the heavyweight dispute for the first time since Gene Tunney retired in 1928."

If complications develop over New York or Chicago at the site of a Dempsey bout, Sachs said Philadelphia and Detroit would be given consideration. The Chicago stadium, Madison Square Garden corporation, or one of several individuals who have signified their willingness to bid for such a contest will promote the bout.

"Dempsey will sign with the promoter whose terms and conditions are the most satisfactory," said Sachs. "Joe Jacobs has assured me he had not given the Garden an option on Schmeling's services after the Sharkey bout so the contest will be open to all bidders. I think it is the only possible bout with a chance to draw a million dollars."

Recovering rapidly from a brief illness Dempsey, who is now in Sacramento, Calif., will leave for the middle west February 2, to begin his second exhibition tour. A cold which he contracted in Reno caused Dempsey to rearrange his exhibition schedule which was announced by Sachs today as follows:

Feb. 8—Milwaukee.
Feb. 11—Cleveland.
Feb. 15—Flint, Mich.
Feb. 18—Chicago.
Feb. 22—Philadelphia.
Feb. 25—Newark.
Feb. 29—Baltimore.

TOP NOTCHERS LOSE 2 GAMES TO CELLAR POSITION PIN TEAM

PETERSONS WIN FROM E. M. B. A.; BRAINOS BEAT N. E. BRAINERD TWO

The cellar position team in the "A" bowling league, the Peterson Clothing Co., proved too strong in two games against the E. M. B. A. league leaders, last night at Van's alleys. The Brainos also won two games from Northeast Brainerd.

Bill Demmers was high three game man with 580 pins. Lester Boyd took high single game honors with a score of 223 pins.

The Brainos' win put them in a second place tie position with the Northeast Brainerd five.

Tonight the Lions Club rolls the Study Club and Alderman-Maghan meets the Bye Clothing team.

Litchfield Prepares Welcome for Bierman

Litchfield, Minn., Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—With all business establishments and civic leaders cooperating, Litchfield today prepared to welcome back a home town boy, Bernie Bierman, new football coach at the University of Minnesota.

Pictures of Bierman were displayed in store windows and the green and white colors of his high school were prominent in decorations throughout the town. Teammates of Bierman in his high school days here will make up the delegation to welcome him.

Coaches from the university will accompany Bierman to Litchfield as will Captain Walter Hass and Jack Munders of the 1932 football team.

Letters to Editor

To the Editor of Daily Dispatch:

The good points of a ball park at Lum park and the plans we have in mind at the present time for consideration of everybody interested in baseball and a ball park:

The grounds have been donated by the park board, which, of course, relieve us of the expense of buying another. At our meetings other grounds were considered and it would cost us at least a $1,000 or more to buy any other grounds.

The community board has put men to work on the Lum park site to clear off trees and brush, so, of course, this relieves us of clearing the grounds.

The grounds would be under direct supervision of the park board and a man is kept at Lum park the year around. He will also have charge of the ball park such as mowing the grass and keeping the grounds in shape. Also that nothing will be destroyed, whereas a park out at the paper mill or other site would be under no supervision or watching and the grandstand and fence would soon be wrecked.

Men of the highway department explained to me that they have a good drain past the site we have in mind and after the trees and brush are removed it would be a very short time for the ground to dry up. They also stated that the soil in this particular spot would work into a ball park very nicely.

As for fence it was suggested by one of the park board members that a lattice fence be erected along the highway, and that a canvas fence can be used on the other three sides which, of course, can be taken down.

And wouldn't it be better to spend our money to improve a grounds and give men work, than to buy a grounds already improved and not give men work.

MERCHANTS TRAIL DETROIT LAKES IN FINAL COUNT, 30-21

BRAINERD HOLDS SCANT LEAD AT HALF; OPPOSING CENTER WINS GAME

The Brainerd Merchants independent cage team was defeated last evening in a fast game with Detroit Lakes there. It was a fast played game all through, Brainerd keeping in the lead until the last quarter when the center on the opposing team made three baskets, running up the final score to 21-30.

At the half the score stood 12-11 in Brainerd's favor and at the third quarter the local team still led 17-15. The Detroit Lakes center took the game away by sinking three baskets in quick succession.

Joe Fitzharris was Brainerd's high point man with 11 points to his credit. The Independents will play Wadena there next Friday night.

Carnera Kayoes French Heavy in Two Rounds

Paris, Jan. 25.—(U.P.)—Primo Carnera, Italian super-heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Moise Bouquillon of France in the second round of their scheduled 10-round bout at the new sports palace last night.

Outweighing his opponent nearly 80 pounds, the huge Carnera battered Bouquillon about the ring and floored him three times before the referee halted the affair.

Carnera chased Bouquillon about the ring in the first round hurling rights and lefts at his head. The Frenchman, who was visibly frightened, and intent on protecting himself, scarcely struck a blow at the man-mountain.

Toronto Pucksters Tied in Standings Leadership

Montreal, Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—Three members of the Toronto Maple Leafs' famous "kid" forward line, Charlie Conacher, Joe Primeau and Harvey Jackson, are tied for leadership in standings of the National Hockey league.

Each of the "kids" has 29 points. Bill Cook of the New York Rangers, leader of the American division, has only 28 points. Reginald "Hooley" Smith of the Montreal Maroons has 26, and Cecil Dillon of the Rangers has 25.

EVANGELICAL FIVE GO DOWN TO DEFEAT AT SWANVILLE, 38 TO 28

Swanville, led by Simons, former all state guard from Hamline university, proved too strong for the Brainerd Evangelicals at Swanville last night, winning by the score of 38-28.

Brainerd's opponents on the cage floor got away to a fast start, going into the second quarter with an 11-1 advantage. Brainerd cut down the lead, the score being 32-28 two minutes before the game ended.

The two teams will meet in Brainerd Feb. 2. The Evangelicals will travel to Paynesville Friday night to battle the home town team there.

WILLIAM WRIGLEY, OWNER OF CUBS, DIES IN PHOENIX

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 26.—(U.P.)—William Wrigley, multi-millionaire chewing gum magnate and owner of the Chicago National league baseball club, died at 2:30 a. m. today from a heart attack.

His son, Phillip K. Wrigley, of Chicago; his daughter, Mrs. J. R. Offield, and granddaughter, Betty Offield, and his physician, Dr. George Goodrich, were at his bedside.

News of Wrigley's death came as a shock in Chicago, where he had won the admiration of thousands by his devotion to his home city, even to spending hundreds of thousands in an effort to realize his ambition—win the world's baseball championship. He was a generous giver to philanthropic enterprises. Last year he turned over an entire business building to the needy.

He had spent most of the winter at Catalina Island, California, but when his physical condition demanded it, he went on to Phoenix. He has a winter home there, eight miles out of the city.

Wrigley founded the chewing gum business which bore his name and made it one of the most striking merchandising successes of the decade. His son, Phillip K., succeeded him several years ago as president. The elder Wrigley became chairman of the board.

The body will be sent to Pasadena, Calif., where funeral services will be held tomorrow. Burial probably will be at Avalon, Catalina Island, which Wrigley purchased 10 years ago.

Wrigley died in his suite at the Arizona Biltmore hotel, which he built in association with the late John McEntee Bowman, founder of the Biltmore hotel chain.

Forebly
"But surely you didn't tell him straight out that you loved him?"
"Goodness, no! He had to squeeze it out of me!"—Answers.

THREE KINDS OF LOVE BY KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANN and CECILY FENWICK have for years supported their parents, their younger sister, MARY-FRANCES, and their grandparents. Known as "The Fenwicks," they are "GRAND" because of this financial responsibility. Ann, who is 28, is unable to marry PHIL ECKROD, a young man to whom she has been engaged for eight years. Cecily, 22, loves BARRY MCKEEL, an engineer, but when he proposes she refuses to name their wedding date for the same reason.

Ann tries to forget PHIL by going around with KENNETH SMITH, rich and very attentive. Ann and Phil quarrel when she hears LETTY KING, who works in Phil's office building, address him with endearment.

De Armon continues to urge Mary-Frances to join his act and she promises to give him her answer next evening. Cecily is disturbed when she learns Barry has left town without telling her about it.

Ann tries to forget PHIL by going around with KENNETH SMITH, rich and very attentive.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXV

MR. G. O. CARMICHAEL, president and sole owner of the Pome-Maid Bakery Products Company (Carmichael's Big Cream Loaf, Carmichael's Cookies for Kiddies, Carmichael's Cakes for Choice Occasions), stood on his front porch and frowned across his well-mown lawn over to his bugless pink roses and sighed worriedly.

Gray haired, healthy, clean shaven, excellently tailored, in appearance he resembled a banker—or thought that he did. His ambition for 25 years since he bought his first small shop and stopped doing baking for the other fellow, had been to look like a banker. That, then, must have been so much to the good on this early Monday morning. Also, conscience clear, he had slept well, had arisen, breakfasted satisfactorily, kissed his wife whom he loved devotedly, and had gone now—as far as the porch, at least—to a business that was thriving robustly at a time when many businesses were failing.

Neither surfaces nor depths seemed to provide reason for Mr. Carmichael's depression. Peace should have been dropping slow. But, and someone come inquiring as to the absence of the nine bean rows and the hive for the honeybees, he would have been told that Mr. Carmichael had a disagreeable duty to perform. Duties were Mr. Carmichael's fetishes. Kildly, well meaning, earnestly mistaken about many things, Mr. Carmichael did not need to see his duty to do it. He scented duties from afar and made them his own with a whiff or two; he heard them whispering in the wind and caught them on the wing. No duty, no matter to whom it belonged, was safe anywhere near Mr. Carmichael.

Mary-Frances Fenwick was coming down the walk on her way to school. Mr. Carmichael, affecting a strolling gait, met her by the pink roses in his parking.

"Good morning, my dear," he said.
"Good morning, Mr. Carmichael."
"Nice morning, isn't it? On your way to school, I suppose?"
"Yes, Mr. Carmichael."

"School soon out now, isn't it?"
"Yes, sir. We're having our finals this week. It is algebra today. I am dreadfully worried about it. It's so hard."

"SPEAKING OF WORRIES," said Mr. Carmichael, "I've been quite a bit worried myself, here of late. Very queer thing. For some time now I've noticed a young couple over in your yard—right near the corner. They meet there frequently. I wonder if your grandfather would like to have that sort of thing going on in his yard?"

"What sort of thing?" said Mary-Frances.

"Love making. I have no doubt. Innocent love making," modestly insisted Mr. Carmichael, "but—night after night. No. I am certain that your grandfather would not like it."

"I don't much think he'd care," Mary-Frances comforted.

"I'm not so sure of that, young lady. I'm not so sure of that. Here is a peculiar thing. The girl is your size and build. In fact, if I didn't know what a sensible little lady you were, I'd be positive that she was you. But I know you too well to think that you'd be sparkling out in the yard, night after night, when you should be in the house studying your algebra. That's the way I know this girl isn't you. You understand, I'm sure she isn't. In fact, I'm so sure of it that, unless I see the couple there again, I've decided not to mention it to your grandfather at all. Of course, if I should ever see them there again, even once more—and I feel it is my duty to watch out—then I'll be bound to inform your grandfather, and no ifs nor ands about it."

Mary-Frances' cheeks dimmed the roses' color. She said, "I'll have to hurry now, I guess. I always go by for my friend, Ermintrude Hill. Goodbye, Mr. Carmichael," and walked away so fast that she heard Mr. Carmichael say, "A word to the wise," only once, though he said it three times before he said, "Well, that's off my mind," and smiled his satisfaction, and went to take his car from the garage.

It was a pity, a great pity. But for Mr. Carmichael and his duty, there is a slim chance, at least, that

Mary-Frances might not have flunked that in her algebra examination; and there is a stout certainty that she never would have written to Earl DeArmon:

Dear Prince Wonderful:
All has been discovered. We dare never meet again. Whatever you do, don't come to see me tonight. I mean it really. This, dearest, is my first enforced absence from each other. Beloved, let us put our hearts together and get comfort. It is not a true separation to know that another part of the world contains the rest of me. Oh, the rest of me, the rest of me that you are! So, thinking of you, I can never be tired. I rest yours. I will give this letter to my friend to take to you, and if you will answer in the inclosed, addressed, stamped envelope I should get it before I go to school in the morning. Answer at once, and be sure to use the envelope, because it is Ermintrude's writing, and if the family should see it before I do they would think I was getting a note from Ermintrude. Dearest, I love you too much, too much. I cannot write it.

I am your most unhappy and loving,
Frankie.

It is difficult to know what to do with quotation marks in Mary-Frances' letter. It is so mixed up. Perhaps the sections that she cribbed can be detected without pointing at them. The child had a certain genius for getting hold of books she would have done just as well or better without. Her plan for acquiring them had, as has much of genius, its roots, at least, in simplicity. She hunted hard, and high and low, for books that had the word "love" in their title excluding only those that seemed to deal with religion or nature study. Rosalie's mind liked going the easy, anthropological ways, and she frequently confessed that, though aware of her folly, she could read better with a pencil in her fingers; so the small bamboo stand behind her door ("My own intimate collection—my dearest friends. One should have them close at hand; don't you agree with me?") was richly fertile with ready reference material for Mary-Frances.

The Englishwoman's Love Letters, however, had not been found in Rosalie's room. Their thin volume had been squeezed crooked between West Coast Shells and An Epitome of Modern European Literature (1833), in the library downstairs. It was filled with pressed, powdery four-leaf clovers, which were a nuisance. In the front of it was a bookplate, undecorated, which read, "This Book Is the Property of A. N. Monks, and Just Be Returned to Him Without Fail." In the back of it, rubber stamped, were the purple words, "This Book is the property of the Cozy Nook Circulating Library, Wendling, Utah." Another of those black-sheep volumes that are fated to stray and get lost on the most moral, dignified, and law abiding bookshelves. Poor little thing, it all groaned its tragedy as Mary-Frances shoved it back into its place.

ERMINTRUDE, who had been waiting during the long process of the latter's construction, said, "Well, if you're through at last, let's go. Let's don't waste the whole afternoon."

"Waste!" sighed Mary-Frances. "Waste!" reproached Mary-Frances, and followed Ermintrude out of the door, dark old library into the warm, fragrant bouquet of June.

On the front porch Ermintrude paused to say again—she had said it several times before—"I just don't see any sense in it."

Mary-Frances crooked her arm around Ermintrude's plump waist. "Come on, darling. I'll walk as far as the fire house with you."

"No, but what I mean," explained Ermintrude, as she allowed herself to be led along, "is that if you're going as far as the fire house, I don't see why you can't go on the rest of the way and call on him yourself and tell him yourself about Mr. Carmichael and all, instead of me calling on him and giving him a letter."

"All I can say to that," deplored Mary-Frances, "is that if you don't just naturally understand a thing like this, Ermintrude, just naturally understand it, it wouldn't be any use in the world for me to try to explain it to you. I'd do as much for you, any time. And, anyway I don't think it is such an awful lot to do, considering that I'm right in the midst of a life tragedy and everything."

"Mary-Frances," said Ermintrude, "are you positively certain that you flunked algebra this morning?"

"That's about the hundredth time you've asked me. What's the use of talking about it all the time?"

"You don't even care, do you, that we won't get our ponies to ride in camp nor anything?"

"I do too care. But I think your father will get yours anyway. It wouldn't be right not to get yours just because I flunked."
